DR. HENKEL AT ODDS Neighbors Fall Out Over All Obstructions to a Chimney-Hard Work for Middles. Alleged

PROF. WERNTZ AND

Buress of The Baltimor Albertan, Anapolis, Md., November 4.
Upon the petition of Dr. Charles B.
Henkel, a physician and druggist occupying a store on the corner of Maryland avenue and Prince George street, in the old opera house building, the Circuit Court has granted an injunction against Bobert L. Werutz, directing him to remove obstructions which Dr. Henkel alleges he has placed to the chimney which reges ne mas placed to the chimney which forms the only outler for the stores by which his store and offices are heated. It is alleged in the petition that in the course of repairs to the building which Professor Werntz, who conducts a preparatory school for candidates, for the Naval Academy, was having made to the building. It is the challenges are sufficient to the building. It is the challenges are sufficient to the building. It is the challenges are sufficient to the building. It is the challenges are sufficient to the building and the challenges are sufficient to the challenge are sufficient to the building and the sufficient to the challenge are sufficient to the challenge are sufficient to the building and the sufficient to the savan academy, was naving made to the building, Dr. Henkel's chimney was en firely stopped up, and that Professor Werntz refused to have the matter rem-edled, although Dr. Henkel protested sgainst it.

It is further alleged that it was abso-It is further alleged that it was suso-lutely necessary for the conduct of the business that the store and offices should be be heatefu and that irreparable injury was being done the petitioner on account of lons of business. The court granted the injunction upon the filing of a lond, but gave leave to the defendant to apply for a dissolution of the injunction.

Judge Rogers, sitting in the Circuit Court, has passed an order sustaining the demurrer of the defendants and dismissaginaries of the decements and mismis-ing the petition for an injunction in the case of Anne B. Jeffers and others againxt the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway Company and the Mayor, Counselor and Aldermen of the City of Annapolis, In which the peti-tioners sought to prevent the laying of the City of Annapolis, in write the perioder sought to prevent the laying of tracks and the construction of an electric railway system through the streets of Annapolis under an ordinance passed by the Mayor, Counselor and Aldermen of the City of Annapolis.

The strenous routhe of work at the Navol Academy has broken down the nervous systems of two midshipmen laterly. The young men are L. C. Mueller, of the second class, from Lacrose, Vis., and F. J. Sexton, of the third class, from New York city. Both developed serious cases of nervous prestration, and, as it is impossible for them to continue with the classes, it has been recommitted. The property of the property It is reliably reported that Paul Armstrong, the playwight, who is now living at Acton, a colonial estate in Anagolia, which he has lessed, has purchased Belmont, a fine old estate on the bay shore; about four miles from Annapolis, and will make it his home. The price was stated to be $10,000.

The third torpedo flotilis, consisting or six torpedo boats, arrived here shortly before 6 this afternoon. The vessels will be used in the instruction of the mid shipmen.

A slight fire in White's Row, also known as. "Buzzard's Roost," did little damage tonlight, but caused much exclement. It is the slum section of Annapolis, and consists of 10 small frame houses, with an average of at least four families to a louse. The whole fire department of Annapolis turned out.